

World TOD Resource

The TOD Resource is an interactive website that brings together resources developed by the WRI family around the world as well as other experts. Designed to be a “one stop shop” to find information about Transit-oriented Development (TOD), this website serves as an educational tool to inform readers about inclusive TOD. It includes materials related to all the different aspects (institutional, financial, design, legal) of interest to a policy maker, local government official, or other party seeking an introduction to the concept of TOD in the context of the Global South. Through a multi-pronged approach, the TOD Resource seeks to fill the gap in literature, build capacity, and become a trusted and robust resource on TOD for cities in developing countries.

Visit other websites in our broader digital ecosystem:

WORLD
RESOURCES
INSTITUTE

ROSS CENTER

TheCityFix

<https://thecityfixlearn.org/courses/world-tod-resource>